

BUCKINGHAM PALACE

15th March 2016

Dear Ms Davis & Mr Reagan,

The Princess Royal has asked me to write and express her sincere condolences on the death of your mother, Nancy. Her Royal Highness is well aware of the impact your mother made during her years as First Lady and, later, as an avid supporter of the fight against Alzheimer's Disease. You and your family must be very proud of her considerable achievements. The Princess met your mother on a number of occasions and was always impressed by her sincerity and work on behalf of others.

Once again, Her Royal Highness sends you and your family her best wishes at this very sad time for you all.

Yours sincerely,
Nick Wright
