Dear Ted:

You can't imagine how very much I enjoyed your kind letter which reached me on my birthday.

I appreciate your having forwarded to me young Damian<sup>X</sup>Renahan's valentine and birthday greeting, and I am sorry that the car in which he was traveling with his parents "sped off" before you could obtain his address.

I want to thank you also for your support in the debt limit vote, even though I certainly might have hoped for a less painful birthday "present".

At any rate, I wanted you to know that your message was greatly appreciated, and that I thank you very much for having taken the time to write.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

RON

Dear Mr. President:

As I was returning from the Senate floor, where, you will be happy to know, I voted for your request to raise the federal debt ceiling to nearly a trillion dollars, a young man started yelling at me from the back seat of a car. I went over to him, and he said: "Senator Kennedy, will you please deliver this to President Reagan for me." So here it is -- a Valentine and a birthday wish from Damian Renehan. Unfortunately, the car Damian was in sped off before I could get his address. Perhaps his parents were Reagan supporters and were afraid of allowing Damian any lengthy conversation with me.

Let me add that I agree with the kind words of Damian's card, except that I'm not sure, in all honesty, that I can be quite as glad as Damian that "you're our President!" I could think of another possibility I might have preferred. In any event, let me join Damian in wishing you a Happy Birthday. By the way, if we give you a trillion dollar federal debt as a present this year, what can we possibly give you on February 6, 1982?

With every best wish,

Sincerely,

Edward M. Kennedy
